framed suspension lamp circle suitable as up light or down light

The Framed collection, with its geometric shapes made of robust hot-rolled steel, offers an industrial yet elegant look. The lighting system, integrated into the frame, adds durability and sophistication. These suspension lamp circles, used as uplights or downlights, provide a unique spectacle against any surface – wall, ceiling, floor, or table. The strong steel frame enables high functionality and endless customization possibilities, allowing the creation of anything from subtle accents to bold statements.
